A Chat With The Editor

TRAVELING is one of the large industries of this era. Millions of people hit the road as soon as the warm weather sets in. They want to get away from their old surroundings: to see—to learn how people live—to meet old and new friends.

In this era of the automobile, trains, buses, boats and fast flying air liners, we have an assortment of transportation which will take one to any place that they might wish to go. With all of these transportation facilities at hand, modern travel has brought thousands of people out of their homes to view the wonders of the world.

Thousands and thousands of dollars are spent each year in the various modes of transportation. Money spent like this brings added revenue to trades people throughout the country.

The white traveler for years has had no difficulty in getting accomodations, but with the Negro it has been different. He before the advent of Negro Travel Guides has had to depend on word of mouth and then sometimes accommodations weren't available. But now a days things are different—he has his own travel guide, that he can depend on for all the information that he wants and with a selection. Hence these guides have made traveling more popular and without running into embarrassing situations.

Since 1936, THE GREEN BOOK has been published yearly. A few years after its publication, THE GREEN BOOK was recognized as the official Negro Travel Guide by the United States Travel Bureau, a part of the Department of Commerce, which bureau has been closed, due to the lack of funds. By being such an important piece of literature, white business has also recognized its value and it is now in use by the Esso Standard Oil Co., The American Automobile Assn. and its affiliate automobile clubs throughout the country, other automobile clubs, air lines, travel bureaus, travelers aid, libraries and thousands of subscribers.

Hence we have filled one of our life's ambitions, to give the Negro a travel guide that will be of service to him, by this method we have established ourselves in the minds of the traveling public. THE GREEN BOOK is known from coast to coast as the source of information for travel and vacations.

No travel Guide is perfect! The changing conditions as all know, contribute to this condition, particularly in the United States.

The listings in this Guide are carefully checked and, despite this, past experiences have shown that our minute inspection had failed to notice errors which would be an inconvenience to the traveler. Therefore, at this point may we emphasize that these listings are printed just as they are presented to us and we would like your cooperation and understanding, that the publishers are not responsible for miscalculations or errors after this check has been made.

We appreciate letters from you, our patrons, donating advice and addresses of places not listed herein, that would be in accord with our level. We also welcome adverse criticism, in that, it might improve our standards, and, in the end, afford more comfortable conditions for you and others.

This Guide Book is not sold on newsstands but in bookstores. They make appreciative gifts to friends and neighbors. Inasmuch as the sale of these Guide Books depend mostly upon the friend-to-friend oral advertising system, it would be particularly interesting if more of our patrons would pass the word along concerning our "Green Book."

For further information concerning this matter you may contact our agents or the publishers: Victor H. Green & Co., 200 West 135th St., Room 215A, New York 30, N. Y.

The Golden Gate

San Francisco, Calif.

SAN FRANCISCO, the fabulous city by the Golden Gate, offers a mixture of adventure to the tourist.

This great metropolis of the West is said to have become a city overnight. In 1841, just thirty families comprised the entire village now known as San Francisco and in 1850 this same place recorded a population of 25,000 persons of every race, creed and color. Every able-bodied man on receiving news of the precious discovery made by one James W. Marshall on the South Fork of the American River in January of 1848, hurried towards the Golden Gate in pursuit of wealth. Many huge fortunes were amassed during this period. Since that time, San Francisco has never had a dull decade. Its life span has been more exciting than that of many Eastern cities, three times as old. The tourist will observe how the warm shadows of great events and vivid people linger on in this city, keeping it gay and carefree, wise and tolerant. San Franciscans share a common love of and desire to preserve their city's friendly, cosmopolitan way of life.

The strategic location of the city, its magnificent harbor and extensive shipping make it a major port. It possesses one of the finest land-locked harbors in the world. The crescent-shaped street known as the EMBARCADERO, is lined with piers and wharves, which parallels the bay shore for three and one half miles. Here, amid the seething activity of international trade, the newcomer may stop and pay tribute to the incredible beauty of this harbor whose scenic splendors, it is claimed, rivals Rio de Janeiro. Shipping from every quarter of the globe testifies of this city's industrial importance to its country and the world. In the recent Pacific conflict this great port proved its value in another way, by serving as the principal embarkation point for servicemen on their way to uphold the American tradition of honor.

Geography is the element blamed the most, for San Francisco's peculiar weather. The fog and cool summer climate is caused when the heat of the interior valleys sucks the fog and cool air through the Golden Gate. There is no great range of temperature so San Francisco might best be described as enjoying a kind of perpetual autumn. Rain falls mostly in the winter half of the year dividing the seasons into what would normally be winter and summer. September usually heralds San Francisco's bright, sparkling weather which usually lasts until Christmas. However, it is suggested and very strongly too, that a topcoat accompany the newcomer any time of the year because the mornings are cold and the evenings are laughingly described as cool. Despite this strange weather San

GREAT BRIDGE SPANS GOLDEN GATE AT SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA

At this storied entrance to the continent, where the Pacific Ocean meets San Francisco Bay, stands this monumental red-orange bridge, its towers rising above the strait to the height of a 65-story building . . . the highest, longest-spanned bridge in the world. Its towers are 746 feet high, its center span is 4200 feet long. It has six automobile traffic lanes and two sidewalks.

Francisco is wrapped in atmosphere of enchantment.

San Francisco was once a barren stretch of sand dunes and rocky hills, scattered with swamps and lagoons. In order to provide for its increasing populations its valleys, tidal marshes and lagoons have been filled in and its smaller hills leveled. Today, San Francisco is a city that is largely man-made. The city's famed bridges have united San Francisco with its neighboring municipalities, blending them into one metropolitan area. These bridges consist of two suspensions and one cantilever which when combined, covers over eight miles in length and adds up to the largest bridge structure yet built. The Golden Gate Bridge regarded as the most beautiful bridge structure is also the longest single suspension span in the world. By walking out on it for the price of one dime the tourist can behold this bridge in all its majesty. The San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge cannot be seen in this manner though none of its splendor is lost in viewing it from the harbor on a Southern Pacific ferryboat.

Though, the bridges have contributed to their economic and social growth the neighboring communities resent becoming known as San Francisco's bedrooms. Oakland which is California's third largest city is in the same unfavorable position as New York City's, Brooklyn. Industries and assembly plants have turned Oakland into a Western Detroit. Its outstanding symbol of activity is the Latham Square Building, headquarters for Henry Kaiser's vast industrial empire. This city has the largest Negro population on the Pacific Coast.

The University of California is located in Berkeley, the town adjoining Oakland. With more than forty thousand students attending classes on the eight, scattered campuses of the University, Berkeley still manages to be tidy, serene and cordial. It comes closest to achieving the cosmopolitan ease desired by other communities because of its casual acceptance of people regardless of their race, creed or color.

San Francisco however, is fast becoming the focal point of the Negroes' future. Before World War II this city had fewer than 5,000 Negroes. High war wages attracted these people from all over the country to this boom town. More than 45,000 Negroes are squeezed into two areas of San Francisco today, with an estimated thirty-five per cent unemployed. Though, comfortable housing facilities and business opportunities are limited to Negroes at this time, tribute should be paid to the encouraging attitude held by San Franciscans toward the improvement and eventual erasure of these existing conditions. They pride themselves on living in the most cultured, cosmopolitan and liberal community in the entire west and as a result are truly, exerting a sincere effort to maintain this position. Many Negroes are of course, proving their value to this community daily and justifying the opportunities presented to them.

In order to pursue their earnest interest in the cultural side of life, San Franciscans dig deep into their private and public funds. Their city is one of the very few where the symphony and opera groups are maintained by the support of every taxpayer. Its symphonic orchestra is one of the foremost in the country while its operatic group is fast gaining recognition. It should be mentioned that art of every kind is appreciated year-round and include fine art shows, lectures, concerts and theatres, for the tourist and art lovers' benefit. San Francisco owns its Opera House which is magnificent and famed as the place where the United Nations' charter was framed. It seems appropriate to San Franciscans that their city, with its people from many lands, was the birthplace of an organization designed to bring world peace.

The Cable Cars, which are a source of amazement and amusement to the newcomer, are a San Francisco institution. The city's hills account for their continued use. In their early days of existence they enabled the town to expand up these steep hills. A beautiful marine view is enjoyed by tens of thousands of San Franciscans from their living room windows atop these hills today, as a result of these comic yet picturesque vehicles. When a more modern method of transportation was proposed by the Transportation Committee, it was overwhelmingly voted against by a group, who represented those San Franciscans who, dismiss any inconveniences suffered enroute from their homes on high to their downtown office and who, rather enjoy the thrill of being crushed inside or hanging helter-skelter from any side of these quaint cars.

San Francisco's downtown area is compact and accessible as clusters of skyscrapers house banks, public buildings and business houses. The shopping district centers on Union Square where department stores, smart women's shops, furriers, fine book stores, hotels, theaters and specialty shops can all be located. It is an area of bustling activity and hurrying throngs, punctuated on every other street corner by the inevitable sidewalk flower stand which offers a colorful assortment of flowers to the busy yet appreciative passer-by. This downtown area is not only the center of San Francisco's economic life but also a point from which every fascinating district in the city can be found.

Like every famous city, San Francisco has its cherished landmarks. The Presidio, which was formerly a garrison for Spanish soldiers is steeped in California's early history and heads the list of interesting sights in this city, as does Portsmouth Square, known as San Francisco's birthplace; the Mission District, the very oldest and most densely populated area; the San Francisco Terminal Building and the Donahue Monument. Of course Lotta's Fountain is a MUST on every visitor's list. It was formerly a watering trough for horses presented by the greatest Western belle of them all, Miss Lotta Crabtree, to the city of gold, during the exciting days of old. This gift has been transformed into a drinking fountain for humans and is the pride of every San Franciscan's heart. Yacht Harbor, Seal Rocks and the Fleishhacker Pool

THE SAN FRANCISCO-OAKLAND BAY BRIDGE, SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA

This bridge is the largest in the world.  $8\frac{1}{4}$  miles long;  $4\frac{1}{2}$  miles over navigable water. The view is toward San Francisco from Yerba Buena Island in mid-bay, through which rocky island of 140 acres the bridge passes by a tunnel and then goes on by leaps of mighty spans to Oakland. The west half of the bridge, seen in the picture, consists of two suspension bridges anchored in the center to a concrete pier. The bridge is double-decked, with six lanes for automobiles on its upper deck, and three lanes for trucks and buses and two tracks for electric trains on its lower deck.

OCEAN BEACH AT SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA

San Francisco meets the Pacific Ocean on a long white beach, which extends some three and a half miles between the Cliff House and Fleishhacker Zoo. It is skirted by the Esplanade and the Great Highway; flanked by Playland-at-the-Beach and Golden Gate Park. Here people wade into waves from China; cast in the surf for striped bass and other fish; bask around picnic fires on the sand; point their cars west and watch the sea and ships or a sunset; enjoy entertainment at the playground. Golden Gate Park extends from here four miles to the center of the city.

Fishermen's Wharf is one of the sights of San Francisco. Located some three miles within the Golden Gate, it is like a bit of the Bay of Naples set down on the shore of San Francisco Bay. From the piers of the lagoons where some 350 fishing vessels berth, one has an excellent view of the Golden Gate Bridge and of the hills of the north shore piling up to the 2600 feet height of lordly Mount Tamalpais. Behind the wharf is Telegraph Hill with high Coit Tower on top. It is the visual center of the Latin Quarter in the North Beach section of San Francisco.

provide varied interests in water sports, while Golden Gate offers an atmosphere of great natural beauty with its 1,013 acres of flowers, shrubs, trees and lawns along with its recreational activities, refreshment enclosures and educational facilities.

Fisherman's Wharf is located at the end of the Embarcadero and is one of the most picturesque areas in San Francisco. Crews, of the gaily painted fishing fleet, tend their business, completely oblivious of the tourists' interest. A spirit of good fellowship prevails among these men as they share their boats, their gear and their profits. Their naturalness is an education and delight to the stranger. Along the street are stands displaying shellfish and at the curb, big, iron cauldrons boil large freshly caught crabs for the purchaser's immediate or delayed consumption. Neighboring restaurants have captured this Old World atmosphere and presents it, and recently caught dinners in a more fashionable manner to their patrons.

The Latin Quarter is one of the biggest tourist attractions in this city because it is a section of many nationalities. French, Negro, Spanish, Portuguese and Italians are all found here. These people are devoted to the entertainment requirements of its many visitors. Everyone turns to its interesting district for a variety of foods and cabarets. From bawdy examples of San Francisco's hospitality, one may turn to more elegance and sophistication within a few short steps in this fascinating part of the city.

San Francisco's Chinatown is the largest Chinese settlement outside the Orient. It is an orderly section today. The old Chinatown of brothels, gambling houses, opium dens and slums was destroyed in the great fire of 1906. Today exotic, pagoda roof tops and iron grilled balconies appear side by side with American tin roofs and straight fronts while men and women of Old China, mingle harmoniously with those who have adopted the latest occidental fashions. In exploring this part of San Francisco, the visitor's interest is captivated by the Chinese Telephone Exchange. This is a triple-pagoda building of traditional Chinese architecture completed with red and gold trimmed, lacquer dragons. Here, attractive Chinese girls operate the switchboards and are acquainted with every subscriber's street and telephone number. Naturally these girls have created a precedent in telephone operating efficiency. Chinatown on the whole is a section which offers fine silks, carved ivory, lacquer-ware and trinkets of every kind to the newcomer along with famous eating places and night clubs. The Chinese

New Year celebration brings forth, with increased vigor, this section's best qualities. The streets are gaily lined with flower stands and every shrine in every shop is lavishly decorated while a spirit of genuine good will and revelry prevails.

The tourist will find San Francisco adaptable, elastic and truly cosmopolitan through the blending of the talents provided by its people. The Italians' love of operatic music, the Mexicans' joy of festivals, the French flair for style and the Spaniards' interest in romance are tempered by the wisdom of the Chinese, the vigor of Mid-western and Eastern settlers and most recently, the beloved humor and wit of the Negro. They have all contributed to San Francisco's mixed flavor and provide it with a viewpoint unlimited by horizons. Your trip to this Western city will be a thrilling experience indeed.

CABLE CARS CLIMB STEEP HILLS IN SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA

Cable cars were invented in San Francisco, in 1873, to climb that city's hills. People find them charming and festive there today in their roller-coaster, bell-Street cable line climbs from Market Street to the top of Nob Hill, passing ringing journeys. Here the California through the financial district and Chinatown on the way. On the height, where once stood the palaces of railroad and bonanza millionaires, are hotels and apartment houses. From the Top of the Mark there one enjoys superlative views of the city, bay and surrounding hills.

MISSION SAN FRANCISCO DE ASIS, SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA

With the founding of Mission San Francisco de Asis, on June 29, 1776, San Francisco was begun—five days before the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia rang forth its historic tidings. Situated near the center of the city, it is popularly known as Mission Dolores. Within its adobe walls, which are four feet thick, one sees ancient altars from Mexico and original decorative work of Indian neophytes on ceiling and walls. The "new church" next the old mission, is an example of Spanish architecture. On the other side of the mission is its ancient cemetery, with its "Grotto of Lourdes" and headstones recalling many notables and others of San Francisco's early days.

Bermuda

Out in the Mid-Atlantic, south east of the Virginia Capes, beyond the Gulf Stream's flying fish and phosphorous, lie the most famous coral islands in the World. It is the Bermudas . . . less than 20 square miles in size and so formed that in few spots it is possible to get more than a mile away from the sea. The north and south shores are utterly different and might belong to countries hundreds of leagues apart.

The Bermudas, with startling clarity of sunlight, their gentle tropical sea, their special flash of white washed roofs, pink-tinted walls and flaming poinciana trees, and their island nights glittering with more stars than any other sky in the Atlantic. They are collectively called "Bermuda." Here we find a place of coveted ease, unhurried charm and relaxed living.

Here it may mean building castles in the cleanest pink and white sand on earth, wandering over coral beaches into ocean that is the greenest green, the bluest blue. It may mean cycling along South Shore Road between tall hedges of Oleander, with youngster and picnic lunches safely tucked in a basket on handle bars.

Or it may be the velvety greens and fairways of one of Bermuda's many golf courses. Or where attractive shops show choicest merchandise of the British Empire.

There are many beautifully kept tennis courts, hidden picnic beaches, delightful roads and coral rocks from which a native fisherman's net may be cast, ensnaring everything including prancing, sea-horses and mermaids singing! For, like a jewel set in Mid-Atlantic, Bermuda is the wish at sunset and romance is starlight.

HOW DO I GET TO BERMUDA?

You go from one Parish to another by boat, by bicycle, by the small motor car. Everywhere the place is leisurely. The motor car, convenient for visits from one end of the islands to the other, travels (by law) only a few miles faster than average horse and carriage.

You fly by the latest aircraft or

St. Peter's Church, St. Georges

you go by luxury liner. The plane takes a few hours, boats from New York, 35 hours. Departures from Baltimore, Boston, Halifax, Montreal and England. When you make reservations inquire about special rates for children

CURRENCY

Although sterling is the legal tender in Bermuda, American and Canadian currencies are accepted everywhere. United Kingdom Bank Notes are still not negotiable.
